2. Jesus knew that the Pharisees and Herodians were His (friends, true followers, enemies) (verse 6)
3. The Pharisees and Herodians hated Jesus because He (would not obey their rules, kept the sabbath day, the way they did; was a Jew) (verse 2)

9. When anybody really believed in Jesus, did He really let His power go to work for him? Which verses tell us that? .
10. Why do you think the unclean spirits fell down when they saw Jesus?

The Pharisees and Herodians wanted to kill Jesus and spoil His good work for the people. The devil used the Pharisees and Herodians as tools to fight against God.

The devil was working against people. He sent demons to live in some people. He sent sickness to other people. God allowed these things. God wanted the people to know that He was stronger than the devil. The power of God in Jesus is able to overcome the power of the devil. Jesus could fix all the bad Satan tried to do. Jesus cast out the demons, and cured the sick people who believed in Jesus.

Some people let themselves be used as tools for the devil to do his work. Other people let God use them as tools for His work. (Read Romans 6:13.)

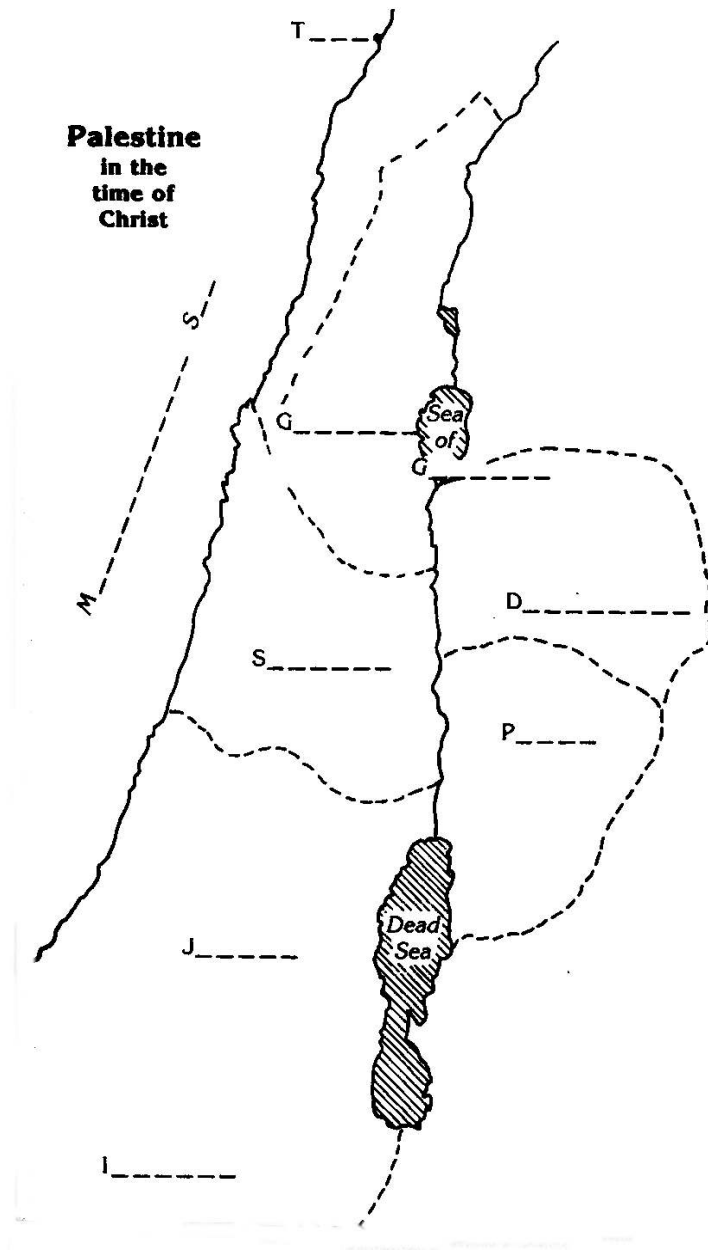

God is exactly the opposite of the devil. In the following, fill in the blanks to show how God and Satan are not alike in any way. You may want to make this list longer by thinking of other ways.
