

Glossary

abandon - to forsake, to leave absolute - perfect, pure, does not depend on other things Abyss - a hole without a bottom according - agreeing, to agree account - to explain or to give a reason for the act or word accusing - to blame, to say someone did or said something acknowledge - to recognize, to own up to, to admit

Adonai - LORD

advocate - one who pleads for another as in court afflict - to make miserable, to trouble agony - great pain of body or mind

Alpha - the first letter in the Greek alphabet, the first ancestry - the family a person comes from - grandfather and his fathers way back ancient - old, of long ago anguish - great pain of mind, grief anoint - to pour oil upon in order to set apart for sacred work appease - to seek to make peace, to calm, to satisfy appoint - to choose and name for a specific work approval - accepting as good enough archangel - one of the highest angels ark of covenant

- the special box in the tabernacle where the tablets of the law were kept and where the high priest sprinkled blood once a year ascend - to go up associate - to join as friends, partners, companions in interest or work assume - to accept as true, to take for granted atonement - the act of making friends, the act of giving something or doing something to make peace atoning - making peace by giving something or by doing something attitude - the way a person thinks about something or someone attribute - characteristic of a person author - one who begins something authority - the right or power to say or do what a person says or does avenge - to get even, to pay back someone for the bad he has done barrier - something that stands in the way begotten - born, brought forth betray - to give information to a person's enemy blameless - without fault blaspheme - to speak about God or the things of God in an evil way blemish - a scar or hurt so something is not perfect captive - prisoner centurion - a Roman soldier who commanded a group of 100 soldiers character - the way a person acts, thinks and believes that is different than others cherubim - the second highest order of angels citizenship - the position of a person who belongs to a country commit - to do, to give a thing or life to someone for safe keeping compassion - to pity, to have mercy condemn - to give over to punishment confess - to tell our faults to God confidence - the act of trusting someone confident - to be sure, to trust confine - to limit, to keep within bounds conform - to make into the same form or like someone else conquer - to win by force conqueror - one who wins by force conscience - that which is in a person which decides if something is right or wrong consecrate - to set something or someone apart for God to use constitute - to make or to form, contain - to hold, to restrain contempt - without honor, to scorn control - rule, direct, keep order counsel - advice

Counselor - one who advises covenant - agreement, treaty curse - to say a wish or threat of evil against a person deceit - that which makes a person believe something which is not true deceive - to fool, to cheat, to mislead declare - to make known defeat - to overcome, to win defect - fault, flaw

Deity - God, the character or nature of a supreme being deliver - to set free demonstrate - to show to others deny - to refuse to admit the truth descendant - child, offspring descend - to come down design - pattern despise - to look down on destine - to choose or appoint beforehand destruction - when something is destroyed, the act of destroying	exact - accurate detachment - separation, the act of standing apart	exaltation - the act of being lifted up to great honor detestable - very hateful	exalt - to lift up to great honor device - trick, tool	exist - to be dimensions - measurements	expanse - a large area disappoint - to make unhappy	faith - belief discard - to throw away	fathom - to understand, to know discern - to know the difference	fearfully - wonderfully disown - to deny, to say something is not	forbearance - patience display - to show openly	foreknew - knew before divine - belonging to God, God-like	forsake - to leave earnestly - seriously	genealogy - a record that shows the forefathers of a person or family Ei Elyon - God Most High	generation - lifetime, an average period of time between the parents and children - usually figured at 30 years elements - weather conditions, conditions of the environment	Gentiles - all those who are not Jews or Israelis Elohim - gods, the God of Creation	ghost - spirit Ei Olam - the Eternal God	glorify - to lift up something or someone for others to praise Ei Shaddai - God Almighty	glorious - something that is worthy of praise enable - to give strength or opportunity to do something	glory - the shining greatness of God encouragement	Godhead - God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit

- that which puts heart into someone, that which helps someone along	grace - undeserved favor endure - to keep going even when it is hard	grief - hurt, great sorrow equal - the same	grieve - to hurt, to have great sorrow espoused - engaged to be married eternal - from ever to ever guilty - to have broken the law hindrance - something that slows a person down or makes it hard to do something holiness - that which is holy holy - pure, clean, without sin human - people humanity - mankind, people humble - not proud idolatry - worship of idols image - a copy or likeness of the real immorality - sinful, sex sin immortal - will not die immutable - does not move or change imperishable - will not rot implant - to place within, to plant securely impurity - that which is not pure indestructible - cannot be destroyed infinite - perfect, great, endless, without limits, cannot be measured inflict - to make someone feel pain or sorrow iniquity - great sin, injustice innocent - has not done wrong inspired - breathed in, as for God's Word - breathed or given by God insult - to cause hurt by hard words or deeds, to offend intently - with much attention intercede - to pray or speak for someone to another person intercessor - one who speaks or prays on the behalf of another invalid - cannot be proved invisible - cannot be seen involved - taking active part in something

Jehovah - Yahweh, God

just - fair justice - fairness, right justification - the act of being made right with God lawlessness - without law lenient - easy going, merciful, tolerant limitation - restriction, weakness majestic - grand majesty - lordship, glory marshaled - commanded martyr - a person who dies for what he believes mature - grown-up mediator - a go-between, peacemaker meekness - gentle courage mercy - forgiveness, kindness millennium - one thousand years moral - pure, deals with establishing principles of right and wrong in behavior mortal - that which can die mystery - secret, hidden truth nature - character, personality

Omega - the last letter of the Greek alphabet, the last omni - all omnipotent - all powerful omnipresent - present every-where omniscient - knows all things oppress - persecute, trouble, to treat with great unfairness ordain - plan, to appoint to a duty or office ordinance - an established ceremony origin - source, where something came from overwhelmed - to be totally overcome paralytic - one who has paralyzes of one or more parts of the body patience - the act of taking pain or sorrow without complaining, waiting without complaining patriarch - forefather, a person who started or led a race of people penalty - punishment for a wrong done

Pentecost - a feast of the Jews, the Holy Spirit came at Pentecost perceive - to understand permanent - lasting, does not change, eternal perplexity - confusion, not knowing what to do personality - the characteristics which make up a person persuasive - convincing, to try and make someone do something plunder - to rob by force plural - more than one possess - to own possession - that which is owned potter - one who makes dishes out of clay predestine - to choose before-hand by God's command presumptuously - proud, over confident prevent - to keep from, to hinder priest - one who stands between sinful people and a holy God proclaim - announce, make known in a public place profess - to make known or confess publicly profound - of very great depth of feeling or quality pronoun - a word used instead of a name of person, place, or thing prophecy - preaching; telling what will happen in the future prophecy - to preach; to tell what will happen in the future prophet - one who tells what will happen in the future, one who speaks God's Word propitiate - to appease, to satisfy propitiation - the act of appeasing, satisfying or calming anger prosper - to have good success prune - to trim the extra branches from trees or vines purification - making pure and clean purify - to make pure and clean purpose - plan, reason quality - excellent value, attribute, characteristic

Rabbi - an ordained leader of the Jewish synagogue, master, teacher

Rabboni - master, great teacher radiance - brightness ransom - the price paid for someone who is held as a slave or prisoner rapture - to seize and carry away, great delight, usually refers to the time Jesus will come for the believers rebel - to turn against rebuke - to reprove reconcile - to make enemies become friends reconciliation - the act of making enemies become friends redeem - to set free by paying a price redeemer - one who sets another free by paying a price reign - rule release - to set free relent - to give in, to soften, to submit repent - to be sorry for sin and to turn from it representation - image, example, likeness resist - to withstand, to fight against restraint - hinderance, limitation, that which holds back restriction - control, limitation reveal - to make known reverence - honor, respect righteous - to be without sin in our lives righteousness - without sin and right before God Sabbath - seventh day of the Jewish week sacred - holy sacrifice - offering - like a lamb killed and offered on an altar

Salem - peace salvation - to be free from the power of sin and the punishment for sin sanctify - to make holy, to set someone or something apart for God sanctuary - the holy place, a place where a person worships God sapphire - precious stone like the color of blue glass satisfaction - receiving what was desired or demanded satisfied - appeased, pleased self-existent - to have life in himself shearer - one who shears sheep singular - one person or one thing sovereign - lord, one who has authority sovereignty - authority, power spectacle - show stain - spot

stature - height stubborn - obstinate, does not want to give in subject - to submit, to be obedient to submission - obedience substance - essence, that which something or someone is made of substitute - one who takes another's place substitution - taking the place of another succeed - to achieve summon - to call supremacy - mastery, highest place supreme - highest, chief sustain - to support, to uphold symbol - picture, sign sympathize - to comfort, to identify with tamarisk - tree temptation - that which makes a person want to do something wrong tempt - to try to make a person do wrong testimony - witness, saying what is known or what happened thwart - to obstruct, to hinder timid - afraid, shy tolerance - patience, endurance tolerate - to accept, to allow, to permit tomb - grave torment - to make someone suffer, to torture train - teach by practice, discipline, procession, those following transform - to change transgression - sin, crime tribulation - suffering, time of great sorrow after the rapture trinity - three in one, as God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Spirit are one God triumph - to overcome, victory unchangeable in being

- does not change in what and who someone is unity - togetherness, oneness unlimited - endless, without bounds unrighteous - evil, wicked, unfair vain - empty, idle vicinity - neighborhood vindicate - to acquit, to clear, to excuse, to uphold violence - destructive force vision - a dream with a meaning wisdom - using what is known in the right way worship - adore, honor, respect wrath - anger, rage

Yahweh - God

yoke - collar, harness, burden